

DESTINATION: DELICIOUS

Used to be, if you were hungry at the airport, you picked up a dry chicken Caesar wrap or M&Ms and a soda and called it dinner. Now, landing a tasty meal is becoming as much a part of the preflight routine as kicking off your shoes at security. San Francisco International Airport's Terminal Two (T2) takes gourmet airport grub to new heights with eateries from celebrity chefs Tyler Florence and Cat Cora. Napa Farms Market offers local Acme Bread, Cowgirl Creamery cheeses, Equator Coffees & Teas, Kara's K cupcakes, and Vino Volo wines. And because it is, after all, San Francisco, you can grab a lentil burger at The Plant Café Organic before boarding.

perfect for father's day

Launched on the shores of St. Tropez, France, in the 1970s, iconic swimwear brand Vilebrequin features trunks in father-son sizes—made of the same quick-drying spinnaker canvas as boat sails. Urchins Swim Trunks, $200 (men's) and $110–$130 (boys); 888/458-0051 or vilebrequinonlinestore.com for retailers proud mary Developed by South Carolina bandmates in the back of a 15-passenger van (don't ask!), this Bloody Mary mix delivers sultry, smoky flavor with a kick of fresh horseradish and garlic. Fat and Juicy Bloody Mary Mix, $3; fatandjuicymix.com

CAP IT OFF

Be efficient and eco-savvy with a bottle opener that limits littering by catching discarded caps in a plastic compartment.

Trudeau Bottle Opener with Cap Catcher, $10; amazon.com

COASTAL CALENDAR

The Art Barge June–September

Brush up on your painting skills at this WWI Navy barge-turned-art school beached on the shores of Napeague Harbor, along the eastern end of Long Island, New York. Check out workshops such as 3-D Studio, which focuses on mixed media and found objects. Mention Coastal Living and receive $25 off the listed class price; 631/267-3172 or theartbarge.com.

26th Annual Carolina Beach Music Festival, Pleasure Island June 4

Eventgoers dance barefoot to R&B jams by North Carolina favorites such as Jim Quick & Coastline and The Band of Oz at the state's only music festival held on the beach; pleasureislandnc.org.

World Oceans Day June 8

Beach cleanups are a great way to celebrate this day, which raises awareness of ocean conservation worldwide. This year's theme is Youth: the Next Wave for a Change. Visit worldoceansday.org to find an event, including concerts and cleanups, near you.

Summer Solstice Celebration June 24–26

Colorful costumes, giant puppets, and elaborate floats meander the streets of downtown Santa Barbara, California, in a salute to the start of summer; solsticeparade.com.

ILLUSTRATION: GETTY IMAGES; SWIMSUITS AND BLOODY MARY MIX: COURTESY OF MANUFACTURERS; BOTTLE OPENER: TED TUCKER; WAVE: JASON CHILDS/GETTY IMAGES; OPPOSITE: TOMMY CROW

digital graffiti

On June 11, the white walls of Alys Beach, Florida, morph into outdoor canvases for digitally projected artworks and videos by international artists. The event includes a DJ spinning tunes to accompany cocktails served poolside; digitalgraffiti.com. ♣

